A F F I D A V I T

I, Maurice Coulombe, inventor and applicant in the above-captioned U.S. Patent application, being duly sworn, make oath and say:

That I verily believe, all things being equal, in accordance with the results obtained during the experimentation phase of the above-mentioned invention, that the magnetic differential displacement device can exhibit a non-zero differential displacement when it is fed with electric current, and is thus operative;

and That accordingly, unexpected and particularly advantageous results are observed during the operation of the above-mentioned invention.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that wilful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such wilful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.
